

Tensions in China's Xinjiang Province: Conflict over Uighurs-only places

Tamar Mayer

(Middlebury College, Vermont / U.S.A.)

Prof. Dr. Tamar Mayer is a professor of geography and the Director of the Rohatyn Center for Global Affairs and of the Program in International and Global Studies at Middlebury College. Her research interests focus on the study of nationalism and national identity in the Middle East and, more recently, in Muslim Western China, and on the relationship among national identity, landscape, and memory.

Tamar Mayer is currently a visiting professor to the Department of Cultural and Social Geography of Humboldt Universität.

Ort: Zentralasien-Seminar der Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin
Invalidenstraße 118, 5. OG, R 507 (Zugang über Schlegelstraße 26)

Zeit: Donnerstag, 9. Januar 2014, 18 Uhr c.t.

Alle Interessenten sind recht herzlich eingeladen.