

HOW TO LIVE TOGETHER?

CIRCULATIONS, PRACTICES AND SPACES IN INDIAN CONTEXTS

SPECIAL LECTURES

TUESDAY (SEP 28)

4-5:30PM (CET)

AJAY GUDAVARTHY

(Jawaharlal Nehru University, Delhi):

Secular sectarianism and the art of living together

(Moderation: Nadja-Christina Schneider, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)

WEDNESDAY (SEP 29)

2-2:30PM (CET)

RAVI SUNDARAM

(Center for the Study of Developing Societies, Delhi):

Performative violence and media circulation: a contemporary history of Hindu nationalism

(Moderation: Fathima Nizaruddin, Jamia Millia Islamia, Delhi)

THURSDAY (SEP 30)

10-11:30AM (CET)

SHWETA KISHORE

(RMIT University, Melbourne):

Reframing participant and audience: a tactics of circulation in Indian documentary

(Moderation: Fathima Nizaruddin, Jamia Millia Islamia, Delhi)

A conference organised in the framework of the Berlin University Alliance funded project

Beyond Social Cohesion - Global Repertoires of Living Together (www.replito.de)

Cooperation partner

Rosa Luxemburg Stiftung -
International Research Group on Authoritarianism and Counter-Strategies

These special lectures are public events which are part of the conference 'How to live together'. To attend to the special lectures please register via the QR-Codes.

For questions please write to fritzi.titzmann@hu-berlin.de