

BCCN
Lecture Series

Yige Dong is an assistant professor in sociology and global gender & sexuality studies at the State University of New York, Buffalo. She holds a Ph.D. in sociology from the Johns Hopkins University. Her research interests include political economy, labor, gender, contentious politics, and comparative-historical methods. Dong's research on Chinese labor politics and feminist movements has appeared in International Journal of Comparative Sociology, Critical Asian Studies, Modern China, among others. She is currently working on a book manuscript that examines the politics of care work during the rise and fall of industrial socialism in China.

Yige Dong
(State University of New York, Buffalo)

Feminism and the Politics of Social Reproduction in China

Thursday
December 16, 2021
12:00-14:00 (CET)

Berlin Contemporary
China Network

CONTENTIOUS POLITICS IN CHINA

NEW PERSPECTIVES AND RESEARCH STRATEGIES

Winter Term 2021/22

Zoom
registration required