

Bukharan Jews in the 20th Century

History, Experience and Narration

Ed. by Ingeborg Baldauf, Moshe Gammer, and Thomas Loy
Reichert Verlag Wiesbaden 2008

Contents

Map9

Abbreviations.....10

I Promising beginnings?

Yefim Yakubov

The “Declaration of Rights of the Native Jews” – the Final Legislative Act Induced by the “Bukharan Jewish Question”.....11

Ze’ev Levin

When it all Began: Bukharan Jews and the Soviets in Central Asia, 1917- 1932.....23

Lutz Rzehak

The Linguistic Challenge: Bukharan Jews and Soviet Language Policy.....37

II The Late Soviet Period

Yaacov Ro’i

The Religious Life of the Bukharan Jewish Community in Soviet Central Asia after World War II.....57

Mark Tolts

The Demographic Profile of the Bukharan Jews in the Late Soviet Period.....77

III Outside Central Asia

Sara Koplik

The Experiences of Bukharan Jews outside the Soviet Union in the 1930s and 1940s.....91

Albert Kaganovitch

The Bukharan Jewish Diaspora at the Beginning of the 21st Century.....111

IV Remembering the Soviet Union

Ingeborg Baldauf

The Soviet Union Remembered by an Uzbek Writer.....117

Thomas Loy

About a Friend. Reflections on the Memoirs of Mordekhay Bachayev.....127

V Making Meaning of Memories and Identity

Thomas Loy

Close Relatives. The Life History of Abrasha (Arkadi) Levayevich Il'yasov.....145

Yochai Primak

Protecting the Integrity of the Community:

Interpreting Jewish Life in Pre-Soviet Central Asia.

Notes from Rabbanith Miriam's Life History.....177

Alanna Cooper

Rituals in Flux: Courtship and Marriage among Bukharan Jews.....187

Glossary.....209

Selected Bibliography.....211

Index of personal names.....227

Index of geographical names.....228

Index of themes and subjects.....233

List of Participants.....238