von

Herrn Adeeb Khalid

(Professor of Asian Studies and History, Carleton College, USA)

The cultural revolution of the 1920s in Uzbekistan

Adeeb Khalid's research interests center on the history of the sedentary societies of Central Asia from the time of the Russian conquest of the 1860s to the present. He is particularly interested in the transformations of culture and identity as a result of historical change. The fate of Islam under Tsarist and Soviet rule has occupied a central place in his research.

Der Vortrag findet in englischer Sprache statt.
